GRAND JURY REMOVES TAINTS OF BRIBERY IN THE CASE OF DR. NYE

Returns Verdict of Not Guilty
After an Hour and a Half Session---Nye Still Faces
Three More Indictments.
Turner Will Proceed With Other Bribery Cases.

FOUR BALLOTS WERE REQUIRED

Family Makes Demonstration When Verdict Is Announced—Prosecuting
Attorney Turner Says That Remaining Indictments Will Be Pushed.
Trial of Representative Evans
Began Monday—Others
Will Be Brought to Trial Soon.

Columbus, O., June 2.—Representative George B. Nye of Pike county, charged with soliciting a bribe from State Printer Crawford on April 18, was acquitted by a jury in Judge Kinkaid's court after being in session only one hour and a half. Dr. Nye faces three other indictments. The case the state lost was considered its strongest. The other cases depend on the evidence of Burns detectives, and their character has been rubbed over and their previous reputations delved into by detectives employed by the indicted solons.

Prosecutor Turner announces that he will go ahead with the other legislative bribery cases. The trial of Representative Evans of Stark county, charged with soliciting a bribe, will begin Monday, and the others will follow its conclusion.

When the jury announced that it had reached a verdict, Dr. Nye and his wife were absent, having gone to the Metropole hotel. Their 12-year-old son, George D., ran to the hotel and brought them back to the courthouse. Dr. Nye's wife, mother, three sisters and 12-year-old son crowded around and kissed him when the verdict was announced. His aged mother wept on his shoulder, repeating "My dear boy, my dear boy." All the Nye family shook hands with the jurors and congratulated the attorneys for the defense—Belcher, Connor and Mattern.

Appropriation Is Pared.
The acquittal came within an hour after the legislature had adjourned. It was scheduled to adjourn 24 hours before, but there was considerable delay, particularly over an appropriation of $7,500 in the sundry bill as a contribution from the state to Franklin county for graft trials and probing expenses. Reactionary senators did not know of the presence of this item until the legislature recessed. Immediately they tried to have the session resumed, but failed.

It is announced that the first vote in the jury room showed 8 to 4 for acquittal, the second, 10 to 2; the third, 11 to 1. On the fourth the twelfth man came over.

Later they had the house return the bill and then threatened to kill it, although it carried many important items, including an amount for a constitutional convention. A conference committee finally was provided and the bill got through with an allowance of $5,000 for the grand jury. A proviso was attached which will make it impossible for any of this to go to the detectives. It must be spent for the investigation from the time Attorney General Hogan took charge.

Mary Mannering, Divorcee, Weds Divorced Detroit.

New York, June 2.—Mary Mannering, the actress, who divorced James J. Hackett April 19, 1910, was married in her apartments to Frederick E. Wadsworth of Detroit. Mr. Wadsworth, who has a boat-building plant on the Detroit river, is rated as one of the wealthy men of Michigan. Mr. Wadsworth as well as Miss Mannering filed divorce records upon applying for a marriage license. Mr. Wadsworth gave his age as 43 and his residence as Grosse Pointe, Mich. The record shows that Mr. Wadsworth's wife divorced him on the grounds of cruelty. Miss Mannering gave her age as 32.

Present Cannon to El Paso in Place of One Stolen.

El Paso, June 2.—The insurrecto army, represented by Major Roque Gonzales Garcia, presented to the city of El Paso the home-made cannon, "Long Tom," which was used in the assault on Juarez. Madero sat in an automobile in the center of the international bridge when the presentation took place. This is the same bridge that Taft and Diaz crossed when they exchanged visits in 1909. As the cannon became the property of El Paso, citizens of the American city dragged it through the streets to City Hall park, where it was placed in the position formerly occupied by the "Blue Whistler," of civil war fame, stolen by insurrectos and used in the attack on Ojinaga.

As Madero rode away from the city hall the grand jury was just reporting to Judge Harper in the courthouse across the street the finding of an indictment against Daniel De Villiers and W. L. Dunne, on charges of plotting to assassinate the rebel leader. The news was conveyed to Madero at his El Paso hotel, but did not bring a comment from him. De Villiers was arrested last Sunday in El Paso and Dunne was arrested in Monterey. Both are in prison.

Wants Divorce Suit Reopened.

Kansas City, June 2.—Mrs. Edna Cowan Cudahy, former wife of Jack Cudahy, will attempt to reopen the divorce suit so that she may obtain absolute control of her children. This was announced as a result of the disappearance of the children from a convent near Los Angeles, Cal., where they were staying. Mrs. Cudahy accuses her mother-in-law of spiriting them away because of a false report that she was at the Hotel Alexandria in Los Angeles with Charles Drummond, the St. Louis bigamist.

HE HAS NOTHING TO CONCEAL

Chairman of Executive Board of United States Steel Corporation
Declares That Government Experts
Have Been Accorded Every Facility
For Examination of Books and That Corporation's Bureau Is in Possession of Valuable Information.

Washington, June 2.—Chairman Stanley of the house committee which is making an investigation of the United States Steel corporation, commonly known as the steel trust, declared at a meeting of the committee that he had moved against the steel corporation in congress because he had heard that there was a plan on foot to nullify any possible tariff legislation by bringing about a worldwide fixing of steel prices.

This statement was made while Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the steel corporation, was on the stand. Judge Gary promptly denied that there was any justification for such a statement. He readily offered to furnish to the committee all the minutes and records of the Iron and Steel Institute, which Chairman Stanley apparently regarded as a possible instrumentality in this international understanding.

Makes Favorable Impression.

This was only one of several instances in which Judge Gary showed his frankness and willingness to open the affairs of the steel corporation and of the trade in general to the committee. He made a favorable impression on the committee in this respect.

Judge Gary was one of several United States Steel officials who were at the hearing. The others were Vice Presidents W. B. Dixon and James Gayley, W. J. Filbert, assistant to Judge Gary; Norman B. Ream, Richard W. Lindbergh appeared as counsel for the corporation.

In beginning, Chairman Stanley asked Judge Gary many questions in regard to subsidiary companies of the steel corporation. Judge Gary said that the subsidiary companies were independent in a measure, but if their affairs are antagonistic to the policy of the steel corporation, the corporation would of course exercise its authority.

"In other words, you have the right of recall?" observed Chairman Stanley. Judge Gary said that the officers of the subsidiary companies were named by their stockholders, but that a suggestion made by the parent company would be respected.

Among other things brought out in the testimony of Judge Gary was the intimation that the department of labor and commerce has suppressed an exhaustive report on the United States Steel corporation, the result of six years' investigation by the bureau of corporations. Judge Elbert H. Gary declared that almost any information he might give is already in the hands of the government.

"The bureau of corporations has for six years been examining our books and records. They have made a most exhaustive review of all our business and our methods," he said. "They must have a mass of documents that would almost fill this room regarding our organization."

"What!" demanded Chairman Stanley, plainly astounded. "Do you mean to say that the bureau has been looking at your business from the inside for four or five years?"

"Certainly," returned Gary. "I don't know how many hundreds of thousands of dollars it has cost us to aid the bureau in investigating."

SELECTS REGULAR COMMITTEE

Senator Martin Introduces Amendment to LaFollette Resolution, Which Carries by Vote of 48 to 20. Provides That Committee on Privileges and Elections Shall Name Eight of Its Members to Make Inquiry—Pomerene After Trust.

Washington, June 2.—By a vote of 48 to 20 the senate ordered a second investigation of the Lorimer scandal. The resolution offered by Senator Martin of Virginia as an amendment to Senator LaFollette's resolution was adopted. The 20 votes were supplied by 13 insurgent republicans—one regular—Perkins of California and six Democrats. Under the Martin resolution the second investigation will be conducted by the committee on privileges and elections. This committee will recommend a senate committee of eight of its members, subject to ratification by the senate. Senator LaFollette's resolution authorized a select committee of five, to be elected by the senate. Every senator favored a re-investigation, the issue being as to the form of the committee.

The senate adopted a concurrent resolution offered by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, calling on the secretary of war for full information as to officers recently issued commissions at New York, Chicago and San Francisco and withdrawing them from various department headquarters.

Senator Brown of Nebraska introduced a resolution declaring Senator Lorimer's seat vacant.

Too Big For Hotel.

Chicago, June 2.—Ella K. Ewing of Gorin, Mo., the tallest woman in the world, is in Chicago to get medical treatment for a weak heart. She is 9 feet 11½ inches high and weighs 385 pounds. She had intended to stay at the Auditorium hotel, but found no bed there big enough to accommodate her.

Three Killed in Auto Wreck.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 2.—Three persons were killed and one probably fatally hurt when an automobile driven by C. A. Sefton, a carriage manufacturer, got beyond control and dashed off a viaduct, hurling its occupants 50 feet below on piles of building material.

Grave Fears For the Life of The Aged Emperor of Austria.

Disquieting reports concerning the health of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria are again in circulation. His physicians have ordered his majesty to change his habits of living, but he is reluctant to obey. The emperor is in his eighty-first year. He has sat on the throne since 1848, a longer period than any other European monarch now alive.

Reunites Columbus Lovers and 12-
Year-Old License Is Used.

Columbus, O., June 2.—Rev. S. K. King returned a marriage license to Probate Clerk Morris which was issued Dec. 14, 1899—12 years ago—and which was just used last month by the couple to whom it had been issued.

The license was issued when Tod A. Galloway was probate judge to Sanford L. Miller and Mary Smith. At that time Miller was 42 and his intended bride 26. The plans for the wedding had all been made. The bride and groom and the best man were ready. Friends had purchased presents. Then a quarrel arose between the two.

It was a trivial matter, but neither would give in to the other. For years they didn't speak. Then the love which had been smoldering broke out afresh. The quarrel was smoothed over and now the little nest which was planned 12 years ago has been built. Since Miller took out the license 24,362 licenses have been issued in Franklin county.

Murderer Is Reconvicted

Circleville, O., June 2.—Thomas Davis, negro, once found guilty of murder and sentenced to be electrocuted on April 14, who was given a new trial and brought here from the pen annex, was again found guilty of first degree murder in the common pleas court. The jury which retried the case refused to recommend mercy. Davis was convicted of the murder of Paul Henryk, a Hungarian, working here.

COMPLETE FAILURE CROWNS ALL EFFORTS TO SECURE NEW DEPOTS

Orders Issued Last December Against the D. T. & I. and C. H. & D. Railways Have Been Ignored and Nothing Done. Now Up to the Railway Commission to Act.

Once more the State Railway Commission has lived to see its own orders and the interests of the public utterly ignored.

On December 10th, 1910, it will be recalled that that august body issued an order against the C. H. & D. railroad and the D. T. & I. railroad, ordering the first named road to construct a new freight depot in this city before June 1, 1911, and the last named road to construct a new freight depot here by May 15th, 1911.

How these orders have been carried out is apparent by the inadequate depot facilities still in usage at this point, and not a move has either road made to carry out the instructions. The officials of the D. T. & I. have been heard to openly scoff at the order.

Now that the orders have been ignored again, it is earnestly hoped that the Dahl-Millikan Company, which brought the suit against the roads to compel them to install better shipping facilities, will proceed with the case and ascertain why the order has not been carried out.

The State Railway Commission is vested with the power to see that its orders are carried out, to the letter, and the citizens of Washington can see no reason why they should fold their hands and allow the roads to ignore their order when better freight depots are so badly needed in this city.

Both railroads have had ample time to build a half dozen depots, but so far they have not made the least effort to better conditions at this point. Since both roads have failed to comply with the order of the Commission it will be interesting to note what action that body will now take.

Police Docket Shows Few Arrests for May

For the month of May only six arrests are recorded on the police docket, being the lowest number for perhaps a score or more of years. Last year the number was 11, and back to 1904, the docket runs as follows: 1909, 14; 1908, 34; 1907, 21; 1906, 13; 1905, 49; 1904, 49.

For the past month four of the arrests were made for intoxication, and two for disorderly conduct. One of the arrests was made outside of the city, so that the actual number in the city was but five.

Lodge Day For County Fair

It has been suggested that the Fayette County Fair Board set one day of the Fayette County Fair aside for Lodge day, when all lodges of every kind in the county would be urged to attend and meet all other members, enjoy a reunion, take part in parades, contests for largest number of members present, drills, etc., making a grand fraternal day out of the affair.

This has met with great success at other points, and it is believed that if the Board takes the matter up it can be made one of the big, if not the biggest day of the fair.

Quickly Joins Her Husband In Death

Mrs. Lucetta Barnett, aged 69 years, and the widow of the late J. K. Barnett, died this morning at 9 o'clock at her home, three miles northeast of this city on the Waterloo pike.

The deceased was taken ill immediately after the death of her beloved husband, whom she found dead by her side in bed on the morning of April 6 last. Her ailment developed into dropsy and defied all efforts to save her life.

Mrs. Barnett was one of the most highly respected women in the county, a splendid neighbor and a devoted mother.

She was united in marriage to J. K. Barnett in 1865, to which union was born five children, four of whom are living. They are Charles, living near the home place, William, of Colorado; Homer, of Waverly, and Mrs. Ada Clegg of this city.

The funeral services will be held on Sunday at 2 o'clock, p. m., Standard time, at the residence. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Bloomingburg.

Joint Worm Damaging Wheat

Reports from various parts of the county indicate that the Wheat Joint Worm will do a great deal of damage to the wheat crop again this year, but probably not as much as last year. This insect works in the walls of the straw, the eggs being laid by the Joint Worm Fly while the plant is tender, and as the straw hardens, the worm commences its destruction, either causing the plant to fall before maturity, or greatly damaging the head.

All who are interested in the subject should write to the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster, Ohio, for Bulletin No. 226, which gives a valuable treatise on the Joint Worm pest. At the same time tell the station to send the bulletins regularly, as they are distributed free to all who ask for them.

National Flag Day

Agreeable to its custom for the past fourteen years, the American Flag Association has sent out from its headquarters in New York City to the president, various governors and mayors, the press and patriotic societies, a call for the observance of Flag day, on Wednesday, June 14, 1911. This date in 1911 will be the one hundred and thirty-fourth anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes as the national emblem of the United States of America.

Memorial Day March Causes Veteran's Death

William Masey, an old soldier in Highland county, was among those who marched in the procession at Hillsboro on Decoration Day, and upon his return from the cemetery he suddenly fell to the sidewalk and expired within a few moments before assistance could reach him. The march was too much for him. Wherever possible at the advanced age of the remaining veterans, they should be hauled to and from the cemetery in carriages or automobiles to guard against just such results as the death of William Masey.

No Beer Arrives On C. H. & D. Trains

What is said to be the first instance of no shipments of beer into this city over the C. H. & D. since the city went dry, occurred yesterday, when not a single case of beer arrived from the breweries on that road at adjoining cities.

This is a most unusual occurrence, as the number of cases usually runs from two or three to a dozen or more. It is supposed that the recent assessment of the Liquor Traffic Tax in this city, together with the relentless war on bootleggers, has caused the suspension of shipments, to a marked degree.

Chas. M. Stimson Donates $25,000

Chas. M. Stimson, of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of this city and founder of what is now the Dahl-Millikan Wholesale Company, has just subscribed $25,000 to the Y. M. C. A. building fund in Los Angeles, Cal., heading the list of givers.

Mr. Stimson left this city in 1884 and at the present time can count his wealth in six figures, all dollars. He has been a hard worker and a shrewd business man, and at the age of 71 is perhaps one of the most active business men in the west, being engaged in building and selling property of all kinds.

While Mr. Stimson has not contributed to the local Y. M. C. A. fund, it is said that he will probably remember the town of his nativity with a handsome donation toward the Y. M. C. A. here.

Health Officer Files Affidavit With Mayor

Health Officer L. P. Howell this morning filed an affidavit against a citizen of Gregg and Forest streets, charging him with maintaining a nuisance. It seems that the water from a bath room had been drained to a privy vault at the place until it has created a foul cesspool. The case was set for trial at 9 a. m. Saturday morning, but the defendant when brought before the Mayor promised to go to work at once to remedy the trouble. It is probable that with compliance the case will be dropped.

JUNIORS BANQUET SENIORS Parrett's Grocery AT CHERRY HOTEL ONE HUNDRED COVERS LAID

The Cherry Hotel dining room was the scene of a brilliant banquet Thursday night, given by the Juniors of the Washington C. H. High school to the Seniors.

One hundred covers were laid, the guests including the Board of Education and their wives and the High school faculty and wives, and it was altogether an affair of sparkling colloquial banter, joyous exchange of class reminiscences and a kind, congenial pleasure, only possible to a set of young people having such community of interests.

The Juniors had exerted themselves to make the banquet and its accessories a success.

The large dining room was a picture, with huge pendants of the Senior colors, crimson and black, and the Junior colors, blue and gold, adorning the side walls, and the Senior colors in graceful festoons around the tables.

The end tables were arranged to form a hollow square, with a table at which sat the members of the Board and Faculty in the center. They were all beautifully decorated, blazing with tapers in candelabra and crystal candlesticks and chain roses holding carnations and snailax. The guest favors were carnations.

The hotel management served to perfection an elaborate course banquet, and the pleasure of the banquet hour was enhanced by exquisite violin and piano music by Mr. Jas. Kneisley and Mr. Frank Horstman.

Always spontaneous, Supt. McClain was particularly happy last evening in the role of toastmaster.

Responses, whose appropriateness and humor delighted the guests were made by Mr. Roy Tharp for the Juniors "To the Has Beens"; Mr. Paul Blessing for the Seniors, "To the To Bes"; Miss Harsha to "Images"; Principal Ferree to "The Calvary of the Latin Department"; Dr. W. Ireland, president of the Board, to the "New High School".

Directed by Miss Sheen the male octette sang "Medley of Football Songs" and an encore.

After the toasts there was dancing until toward midnight.

The Junior Executive Committee in charge of the banquet included Miss Prudence Culhan, Chas. Willis, Harold Craig, and the Decorating Committee, Misses Jean Howat, Ruth VanKirk, Maynard Craig, James Ballard.

The trip was made in autos and carriages, Mr. and Mrs. George Haynes chaperoning.

THE PASSING OF THE 79TH.

The Seventy-ninth General Assembly of Ohio has passed into history. It ceased as a law-making body to exist on Wednesday night.

Since the election of a United States Senator last January the work in both branches of the General Assembly has been seriously hampered and much proposed and badly needed legislation has been either so changed, before enactment, from the original design as to be unrecognizable to its closest friends or killed entirely.

Growing out of the contest for the honor of representing Ohio in the Senate of the United States the feud between the Governor and his friends in the Senate and the House on the one hand and the friends of the defeated candidates for United States Senator has grown and spread until the usefulness of both branches was almost totally destroyed and the adjournment came as a welcome end to the strife and turmoil, and a removal of the menace of ill advised legislative enactment.

The bribery scandals have also done much to intensify the factional fights and personal bitterness which so hampered the body in the performance of the tasks which the members and friends had cut out for it. Many people of Ohio trace the motive for these bribery exposures, whether the charges be true or false to the feud over the fight for United States Senator.

Notwithstanding the unpleasant notoriety it has received, the Seventy-ninth General Assembly really has done some good things, by no means the least of which is to break up the practice of burying bills in the committee.

By reason of the abuse, and much of it unwarranted, heaped upon the heads of many of the members by some newspapers of the state, it is believed there will spring some action in the future, curbing this over-indulgence in character assassination so much relied upon nowadays by many of the yellow journals.

Wholesome and helpful exposure of fraud by the public press has been distorted into a hideous monster by some of the newspapers which live and thrive by the publication of unwarranted and vicious libels against public officials.

If the abuse which the members of the present session have suffered may lead to a halt in that outrageous work, then indeed the wrongs may not have been suffered in vain.

THE PUT IT OFFS.

The great majority of the people—both men and women—in the world, who complain of having such a hard time, so much bad luck and the like, may attribute at least ninety-nine per cent. of their trouble to the put it off habit.

"Bill Put It Off" of cartoon fame, causes more trouble in this world than anything else.

The man who sits day by day in his office or place of business idly reading the newspapers or failing to go to his office or place of business, during office hours, to enjoy a few minutes of recreation in the pool room or the bowling alley, to discuss with kindred spirits the baseball games, the automobile races, or the prize fights, when he has work to do, is continually in hot water and he deserves to be.

The recreations he enjoys so much are all right enough in their place and at the proper time, but should not be indulged in when there is work which should be done.

If these men would learn and put into active, controlling use the "Do It Now" maxim, much—indeed practically all—of the hurry, worry and confusion would vanish.

Matters of business which require attention cannot fail to accumulate to an appalling extent on the man who puts off the performance of every day tasks. If that deplorable result does not follow then a worse one must come—business will fall off, steadily diminish until it entirely disappears, leaving the man who puts off with nothing at all to do and consequently down on his luck.

It is not different with the women. Housekeeping is a daily task and the dozens of duties which each day arise must be attended to as they each appear and require attention.

The women who sit down to read an interesting novel, play the piano, or to engage in really helpful mental training when the dishes require washing, the beds to be made, or the house to be swept, will be in a stew almost continually and frequently when company arrives unexpectedly, be disgraced on account of the wretched condition of her house.

Frequently these women who have the put-it-off habit in its worst form justify their conduct by the statement that they are not going to make slaves of themselves for any house; that life was given them for a higher and a nobler purpose; that they are going to enjoy themselves and the house-keeping duties can wait.

There are certain fixed tasks which every man and woman in the great middle class of society must perform each day and shirking the performance of these tasks means more work and harder work eventually or utter disaster and ruin.

Real enjoyment of rest comes with the knowledge that one is entitled to rest and no normal man or woman can feel comfortable when they know they are neglecting work and they do not fool themselves or any one else by saying that they do.

The men who watch the ball games and play pool and billiards while work waits and the women who read novels and play the piano in a disordered home, are the original simon pure, ever enduring, hard luck creatures, who have such a hard time getting along in the world.

No slavery for them—they are having a good time. So they say.

POETRY FOR TODAY

SON OF ATHENS.

Son of Athens, are you clean
 This straw lid of mine that's seen Seasons two, bear this in mind—
 It has breasted many a wind.

Treat it gently, Greek of Greeks;
 It is ancient, and it leaks,
 Yet I cherish it, oh friend—
 See if that bum braid will mend.

Do not curl your lip the while
 You apply these acids vile;
 Dear indeed it is to me—
 Treat it not contemptuously.

Son of Athens, as you clean
 This old straw, sans hint of sheen,
 Damage not my comrade true—
 For I can't afford a new.

Premonitions Folly of Mankind

LITTLE superstitions chain the soul.

We talk a deal about living in a free country, but a free country does not much good so long as we are enslaved spirits. Examine yourself, as you read this article, and see if you are not all bound round with witless and cords of foolish fears; and if so be that you are, then make your Declaration of Independence here and now, and inaugurate your own little Fourth of July.

No matter how small the matter, a superstition about anything is injurious; and almost every one is guilty more or less. The next time you are in a company challenge them all, and see if each one has not some little pet timidity. Each person, I dare say, will begin by declaring that he has no superstitions, and will end by saying that, while of course he knows there is nothing in it, he doesn't really care to sit down with twelve other people at a dinner, or to look at the new moon over his left shoulder.

Now, go through your mind and heart and pull up all those little weeds. They seem small, but they contaminate your intellect and taint your free affections. Get rid of your superstitions, whatever they may be; whether you are afraid to pick up a pin that lies with its point toward you, or to do any important business on Friday, or to spill salt [without throwing a pinch over your shoulder] or carry a spade through the house for fear some one will be digging your grave, or to open an umbrella indoors, or to return to your home for something you have forgotten or to plant potatoes in the time of the full moon, or any other idiosyncrasy.

All these are "survivals;" that is, they are little remnants of inherited weaknesses. They are little spots of decay upon the apple of your soul. Cut them out. There's enough, goodness knows, in nature and her laws in truth and her invariable retributions, to be afraid of, without indulging in fears of things that have no substance nor reason.

Set it down on your tablets, that whatever has no ground in common sense, no clear linking of cause or effect, is not worthy of the consideration of any thinking being.

Nothing needs the application of reason like fear. All fear is not harmful. One ought to be afraid to eat poison, or to catch cold, or to stand on the railroad track in front of an advancing locomotive. Life is preserved by such normal and intelligent cowardice. The child's life, for instance, is made safe by his fear to touch a red-hot stove.

So all the great laws of nature have their rear guards of terror. Every law of the body, of breathing, and nutrition and exercise; of the mind, such as the results of study or of idleness; and of the soul, such as the consequence of love or of hate, of purity or of uncleanness; every one of these laws carries with it a corollary of pain and loss, and rational people ought to fear them.

But superstition is plain fear without any cause, and is utterly demoralizing. If a man is afraid to overeat it makes him healthy; if he is afraid of ghosts it makes him a fool. If he is afraid to lie or do a mean act it produces growth and makes him more manly; if he is afraid to be happy or to leave the house in the morning starting off with his left foot instead of his right it stunts his manhood and makes him childish.

And now let us get at a branch of this subject that is more dangerous than any of the trivial matters of which we have spoken. Let us consider premonitions.

Of all the fool, silly, unintelligent, childish, wicked, sickly, perilous, and abominable mushrooms and toadstools that grow in the garden of the human mind premonitions are the worst.

If there be a devil, premonitions must come from him, for they are so purely vicious. They never did any good. Their only fruit is uneasiness and unhappiness and senseless torment.

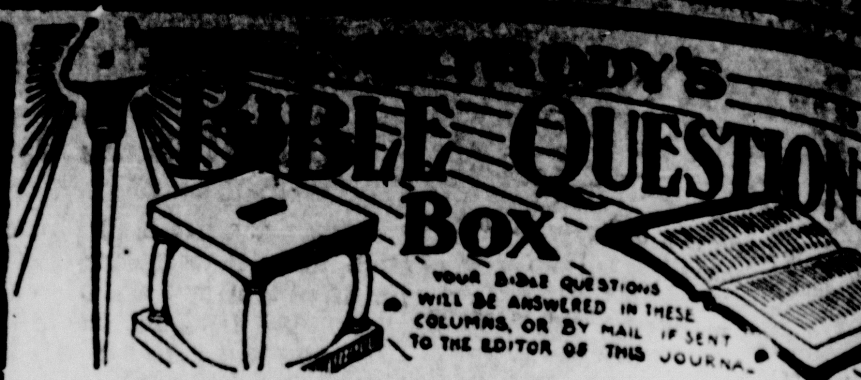

I know whereof I speak. For I inherited from my mother a predisposition to this habit. In my early years I have spent many a miserable hour in an agony of apprehension that "something was going to happen." And for the comfort of any who may be similarly afflicted I can add that after carefully testing my apprehensions in a number of instances and proving to myself that they could not possibly mean anything I succeeded absolutely in exterminating the entire trait from my character. I think I can say now without undue boasting that I am "not afraid of nothing." There are things that scare me, but I have found out that there is nothing at all to nothing.

Psychic research and the like may do some good [nothing, I suppose, is impossible], but a lot of it certainly does do some harm. We have all read those strange instances where a wife is depressed at 3 p. m. on Saturday and afterwards finds out that at that same hour her husband broke his leg; or how a friend has a horrible dream on July 7 and later discovers that his friend had an ear bitten off in Wolfville, Ariz., on the same date.

Now, if you will sponge all this dream business and premonition disease off from your mental slate and determine to indulge in no fear that has no sense to it, you will be both happier and wiser.

The utter uselessness of premonitions is shown in this: That even if true they are of no help. They do not fortify us to meet calamity, but weaken us and render us feeble to resist misfortune. And if trouble is coming, the best way to meet it is with a stout heart and a brain unfogged by the nonsense of dread.

Even death, most dreadful of all things, is robbed of its terrors if we have not been looking for it; or if, 187.—Perhaps one of the questions most frequently propounded is, "Who was Cain's wife?" What is the answer to this, if any?

Answer.—As there was but the one pair created by the Lord, Adam and Eve, there is only one answer and that a reasonable one, when we accept the Scriptural teaching. We read that Adam had other children, boys and daughters, besides Cain and Abel (Genesis 3, 4). As the race had a perfect start in Adam, and his children were nearly perfect, no disastrous results would occur from inter-marriage such as would be the case today when the race has deteriorated to such an extent that marriage between first cousins even, is prohibited by law in some states. We recall that Abraham married his half-sister many centuries later and after the race had traveled considerably over the downward way. We know that Cain could not have married his brother, and since Adam's daughters were the only females on earth, the inevitable conclusion is that Cain married his sister. The land of Nod, where Cain resided, was a land in the near vicinity of Eden, which afterwards became known by the title Nod. The city built by Cain was, as the Hebrew word signifies, a walled place, or in other words, a house, or villa.

knowing it is to come at a certain time, we nerve ourselves to act as if it were not to come or as if it were of no importance over any other event.

How calm was old Socrates in his prison awaiting the hemlock! And I like to remember the anecdote of John Wesley to the effect that when he was once asked what he would do today if he knew he was to die tonight he replied that he would go through with his program of the day exactly as he had marked it out.

Death is something to expect, but it is nothing to be afraid of. It is as natural to die as to be born. If a man, therefore, conducts his life upon a rational plan, and moves on every day aiming to wrong no man and to live in the main true and straight, death ought to be no more than sleep. Old Bishop William Taylor, once when there was a storm at sea, and all on the ship expected it to go down and were praying, was discovered in his berth reading a newspaper. In amazement they asked, "Why are you not praying, bishop, in this awful hour?"

"I'm all prayed out," he replied. Let us therefore not indulge in the expensive and poisonous intoxication of any premonition. And even of the king of terrors, death itself, let us recall the clear words of Lord Bacon: "Men fear death as children fear to go to the dark; and as that natural fear in children is increased with tales, so is the other."

The street car conductor opened the door to the front platform to collect his fares. He encountered five policemen riding him from work. "Five coppers," remarked the conductor, slamming the door, "and not a nickel in the bunch."

"Me no talkee Chinese velly well," explained the hostess, upon greeting the visitor from the flowery kingdom.

"No matter," responded the latter. "I can converse tolerably well in English."

Life is forced upon us; the knowledge how to live we must acquire.

Free Wool Talk Comes To Naught

House Democrats Administer
Snub to Bryan.

Washington, June 2. — The Democrats of the house repudiated William J. Bryan's attempt to dictate their policy in regard to the revision of the wool schedule. By a unanimous vote in a party caucus they turned down his demand for free raw wool and accepted the bill prepared by the ways and means committee under the direction of Representative Underwood, which fixes a duty of 20 per cent on raw wool as compared with an equivalent of 44.31 per cent imposed under the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

The effect of the action by Representative Underwood and his followers in defeating Bryan's efforts to impose his will on the house organization will extend far beyond the proposed revision of the woolen schedule. It amounts to the serving of notice upon Mr. Bryan that the Democratic organization of the house will not tolerate his assumed leadership, and that the responsible house leaders are capable of holding the reins against him.

It is the general impression in Washington that the repudiation of Mr. Bryan on the wool schedule is the beginning of a serious break in the party. Politicians expect to see the fight carried ultimately into the Democratic national convention.

The action of the house Democrats is interpreted as a sad blow for Champ Clark's presidential aspirations. In the opinion of many it is bound to result in a break between the Nebraskan and the speaker of the house. Mr. Clark did not openly engage in the fight for the Underwood plan of revision, but he is committed to it, and Mr. Bryan undoubtedly will hold him responsible.

In the bomb-throwing contest Parmelee scored 15 points and Sopwith 18 out of a possible 30. Parmelee's score is now 48 and Sopwith's 54 out of a possible 90. The aviators have one more day for target practice.

Patterson Desirous Of Demonstrating Aviation Here

Senator and Associates Planning to Give an Exhibition in This City With a Curtis Flying Machine in a Few Weeks.

If the plans of Senator Sam Patterson and associates meet with success, the citizens of Washington and Fayette county may be treated to a demonstration given by a Curtis flying machine within the next few weeks, as Senator Patterson is now negotiating with parties in this city to have the aeroplane visit Washington on a trip from Portsmouth to Columbus, via Chillicothe, Greenfield, Washington and London.

For some time Mr. Patterson has had the project of a flight from Portsmouth to Columbus, under contemplation, and has decided upon one of two routes—either through this city or Circleville, and the man who will make the flight is one of the best known aviators of the Curtis Aeroplane Company.

Senator Patterson has announced his intention of visiting this city within the next few days for the purpose of arranging for the flight and demonstration at this point, and full plans and details will then be made public, if he does this and interests the parties he has been in communication with.

The men back of the Portsmouth to Columbus flight ask a certain sum from each city where a stop and demonstration is given. In Circleville the amount asked was $1000, but it is believed the stop could be secured here for much less.

Wonderful Record Made by Harroun

Seventy-five miles an hour is the record made by Harroun in the great Automobile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th. This terrific pace was toll off mile after mile and at times was increased to over eighty miles per hour. Ten cars finished with only a small margin of time between them and eight of the ten were equipped with Michelin Tires.

A new world's record for 250 miles in 3 hours, 20 minutes, and 29 seconds, was made by Harroun, whose name will go down in the history of automobiling as out-driving and out-generating the best drivers in the world.

Claims Highland Has Most Money

An offended citizen writing in the Leesburg Buckeye of yesterday, answering an article published in a Fayette county paper wherein the claim was made that Fayette county financial statements show a total of more than $150,000 on deposit in this county than in Highland, makes

PROVISIONS NECESSARY FOR FARMERS' INSTITUTE THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY

Points in Fayette county other than those where Farmers' Institute Association now exist, may secure an institute if application is made.
Hon. A. P. Sandles explains the proceedings necessary in the following letter:

If application is made on or before July 1, many new institutes will be granted to places not having them last year.

The State Board of Agriculture desires to reach communities not heretofore favored by these meetings.
New features will be introduced.
Exhibits and demonstration work will add interest.

Official reports from last season's meetings indicate an increase of ten per cent. over attendance of previous years.

More practical work and less entertainment will be the policy of the State Board toward future institutes.
Public funds should be used for real public good, and not for amusement features. The tax-payer won't kick on paying the freight if he gets value received for his money.

Before any town or place is granted an institute, assurance must be given that a good building, well lighted and heated, will be furnished.

The State Board may authorize as much as $31.25 to be paid out of the State institute fund, for local expenses of each institute granted by it.

The institute can be held at no cost whatever to the citizens of the community if the proper applicathe statement that not only does Highland exceed Fayette over half a million dollars in deposits, but charges that all of the big building and loan institutions in that county were overlooked in the comparison made.

He says the article published was misleading, causing readers to think that no more money could be found on deposit in Highland county. He adds:

"The following taken from the last report of the Department of Building and Loan Associations, gives Highland county credit for the following:

Greenfield Fidelity B. & L., $139,- 700.23, Greenfield Home B. & L., $307,886.24, Hillsboro Equitable B.
& L., $3,236.47, Hillsboro Superior
B. & L., $150,149.94, Leesburg Leesburg B. & L. $30,965.45, Leesburg Fairfield B. & L. $14,523.09, Lynchburg B. & L. $75,267.89; total $721,- 729.31.

"Here is nearly three quarters of a million dollars The Advertiser fails to take any account of at all.

"Fayette county has only one Association reported. Its deposits are reported as $15,000.68. According to their figures they beat Highland county $140,745.11, just add their
B. & L. deposit and you have $155,- 923.79, then take this from $721,- 729.31, and you have $565,805.52 in favor of Highland county.

"We would like further to call attention to the fact that the deposits in Leesburg financial institutions according to their latest statements are $321,616.55, about one-third of a million dollars. In point of business Leesburg is fourth best station on the B. & O. S. W. Ry., between Cincinnati and Parkersburg—Greenfield, Athens, Chillicothe being places ahead of us."

tion is made to the Board in time.
Every town is benefited in which an institute is held. Business men, grain dealers and millers can well afford to encourage the holding of same.

Every part of each county is entitled to receive some of the benefits from this expenditure of public funds.

Many townships have never had such a meeting, yet they help to pay for others.

Write at once for application blanks and instructions.

Three Months To Complete Plans

Engineer Frank M. Kennedy, to whom the contract for furnishing plans and specifications for a sanitary sewerage system for Washington, was let, states that it will probably require from two to three months to complete the plans, and have them approved by the state board of health, so that in all probability, little will be done toward work this summer, notwithstanding the urgent need of quick action.

Mr. Kennedy prepared plans and specifications several years ago, for a sewerage system, but no action was taken at that time. The present plans will call for a much more modern system.

URGES JUDGE BLAIR TO FIGHT CHARGES AND CLEAR HIS NAME

The charges recently made against Judge A. Z. Blair, famed for disfranchising 2000 voters in Adams county for vote selling are now causing people throughout Ohio to demand more than plain denials.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer puts it up to Judge Blair as follows:

"It is up to Judge A. Z. Blair, of Adams county vote selling prosecution fame, to do some hard fighting on his own behalf. A situation confronts him which cannot be met with nothing more than warm words.
"Judge Blair tells his audiences that he is being persecuted by liquor interests, and he declares that the pamphlets, which are freely circulated, attacking his record and his integrity in the matter of vote-buying, are 'infamous falsehoods.' He vehemently denies that the charges have any foundation in fact.
"That is exactly what the decent people of Ohio want to believe. All of their feeling and inclination runs that way. They do not wish to be forced to doubt Judge Blair's uprightness and his entire innocence of vote buying in his own county.

"The famous judge who has done so much to purge Adams county of corruption ought to help his millions of well-wishers clear away the least hanging doubts as to this point. He ought not to rest with denials. It is up to him to fight his foes.

"The charges that he paid money for votes, at various times, in his own county, are very explicit. They are signed by a Cincinnati lawyer named Durand, who gives his address and defies prosecution. He may be a scoundrel but he can't be ignored. He must be prosecuted if Judge Blair is to retain his full power for doing good and aiding to cleanse the political life of his country and state."

SLEEVES MUCH THE SAME AS IN PAST SEASON

Sleeves are much the same as they were last autumn, although one finds many floppily-draped arrangements in chiffon with the ever-present kimono or peasant sleeve. The drapery is of the simplest kind, however, and is often accomplished merely by catching up a corner or edge at the sleeve bottom and turning it up in cuff fashion, attaching it to the sleeve in such manner that a soft irregularity of folds on movement will be attained.

There are long sleeves of chiffon, also, fuffed a little along one side or both sides and caught in loosely at the wrist.

House-Renting and House-Selling Are Want Ad Tasks

They are such "usual tasks" for the want ads that it would be hard to find a rented house whose tenant did not find it through answering an ad—or an owned house whose purchase and sale did not originate in a classified ad.

If these facts are not significant to owners of property, no facts whatever would be.

"The Stage Child"
 DRAMA
 In this picture, little Marie Eline takes the part of the stage child. A baby is shown in the first scenes and the "Thanhouse kid" impersonates this baby six years later. Spectators everywhere take a good deal of interest in Maria Eline and her acting, which is remarkably good. This is one of the most interesting of the "Kid's" appearances.
 The Photography is excellent and the story, great!

POWERS
"Her Atonement" DRAMATIC
 This picture reminds one of Leah Kleschna—It has the same underlying idea. Mrs. Fiske made the innovation of Leah vivid, but the young lady who plays the heroine in this picture brings out the strong scenes with great success. The attention to detail for which the Powers Stock Company is famous, will be noticed in this picture, particularly the time as noted by the clock.

Body of Stranger Found in Orchard

The badly decomposed body of an unknown man was found in an orchard in Green county not far from Xenia, with little or no clue as to who he was. The remains were found by John Miller, a young farmer while hunting his cattle. He was attracted to the spot by the horrible stench arising from the remains, and when he saw what caused the awful stench, he hurriedly summoned the coroner, who made a brief examination and ordered the body interred.

Among the man's effects was a letter bearing the name of Jacob Neudar, and it is believed he is a German who was passing through the country, became ill and lay down and died. Life had been extinct for several days, and the remains were very badly decomposed.

No foul play is suspected, as it is thought death resulted from natural causes.

Letters written in good German one of them from his wife, living at Limbeck, Prassburg, Hungary, have been translated for Coroner Marquardt, indicate that the man had threatened suicide, and was despondent. On a bill head of the Schauer Distilling Company, of Dayton, the man had written a note saying that he would either drown or hang himself and that his friends had not treated him well. The letter from his wife indicated that she was very well educated, and a woman of refinement. She thanked him for some money he sent her, evidently for her passage to America, but said her mother was so old she could not leave her. She implored him not to commit suicide for the sake of the children.

Cash fare receipts on interurban roads about Hamilton and Middletown indicate that he was from that locality.

Ohio Happenings

Depositors Get Little Comfort.
 Wellsville, O., June 2. — Many depositors hoped against hope that their savings would be found intact when the strong box of the Silver Banking company was opened. This hope faded when T. R. Andrews, the aged cashier, arose from his sick bed to work the combination. The vault contained but a few dollars, scattered about as if dropped in a hurry. John Householder, a blind man, who stood outside the door, wept when he found that the $300 he had saved to bury himself and wife had vanished. As trustee McKenzie finds the bank's affairs in a badly complicated condition.

Had an Awful Thirst.
 Columbus, O., June 2. The drinking water bill of $1.34 by the house claims committee for the 1911 session of the house raises the inquiry whether the representatives have been conducting a swimming pool or getting immunity baths. The state paid $158.75 for 9,477 gallons of water. This would be 78 gallons for each of the 177 members, even if all of them drank water.

Own Locks Ear Escape.
 Columbus, O., June 2. William Wisenbach, head of the new steel cells which are being installed at the penitentiary, is now locked in the big prison by some of the locks he made himself. Wisenbach was received at the pen to serve 18 months for robbery.

Shoots at Daughters' Lover.
 Dayton, O., June 2. — Buried at the sight of his daughter and her sweet heart, Benjamin F. Beatty, strolling together, George W. Jones, father of the girl, attempted to kill Beatty by shooting at him several times. The bullets missed their mark, but whizzed dangerously near pedestrians.

Oil Explodes; Man Dies.
 Ashtabula, O., June 2. — Otto Woodward, 27, of Rock Creek, got up at 1 o'clock and started a fire with coal oil. He was burned to death. He lived alone. After the explosion he ran toward a creek near by, but was found in bushes with his clothing burned off. He died in a short time.

Death Grants Wish.
 Findlay, O., June 2. — Mrs. C. B. Hall, 72, was stricken with paralysis while celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of her wedding. Mrs. Hall had frequently expressed a desire to live until her golden wedding day. The end came suddenly after she had realized her oft-expressed wish.

SOAK FLOWER SEEDS BEFORE PLANTING

Almost all flower seeds germinate more quickly if soaked in warm water for a few hours before planting. In some instances this is almost a necessity.

The advantage of treating sweet peas this way is most marked. Cypress vine will stand quite warm water poured over the seeds 12 hours before planting.

Canna seeds and those of the other large, hard-shelled sorts sometimes require careful filing to break the tough, outer cover, but extreme care must be taken not to injure the germ.

The finer greenhouse seeds should be merely sprinkled on the surface of very fine soil and kept continually moist. During germination glass should be kept over the pots. After the plants have come up this should be removed to admit air.

Extreme care must be taken of the tiny seedlings, for if allowed to get dry they will almost surely die and if kept too moist they incline to "damp off."

The sowing of fern spores on a brick covered with just a sprinkling of earth is an interesting study to the nature lover, the necessary water being supplied by keeping the brick in a dish of water.

Most of the greenhouse plants and similar delicate ones are scarcely profitable for the experimental study, as a source of experimental study, though geraniums and a number of the larger seeds are as easily managed as a pansy or an aster and one can get a good variety at a small cost.

As a rule the seed should be planted twice its own depth and in the case of small seeds it is essential to have the ground finely pulverized.

Self-slaughter, suicide by injudicious living, is the most frequent cause of death.

Little Frocks Stained By Cut Fingers

A day rarely passes that the mother of several children is not called upon to bandage cut fingers and in many cases when the blood drops on the frock and is allowed to dry it is a source of annoyance to the laundress.

If taken when freshly made cold water will entirely remove it, but if it has been allowed to dry and harden in the little frock it must be soaked for a few hours in cold water to which a piece of washing soda has been added.

It should then be washed and rubbed through clean cold water and soiled if the material is white or if colored gingham frock it should be bleached in the open air.

FOOTBALL IS DANGEROUS.

If You Don't Think So Try to Start a Game in Turkey.

It is, or was until recently, a difficult matter to be a sportsman in Turkey. One Rehad Bey tried it, with a result weird enough to serve as a basis for a detective story or a comic opera.

The young Turk had organized a football team among his friends, together with some Greeks and Armenians, and began practicing. Not very long after, in the middle of the night, police came to his house and carried him off to Scutari. There he was submitted to a long interrogation as to the club and the game of football.

The authorities were convinced that they had found a great plot and that the club must be a secret society. A special messenger was sent for the ball, and that was duly examined and found to be an infernal machine. The rules of the game were considered to be another piece of damning evidence, and still worse were the sweaters and colors of the club.

After long deliberation the culprit was sent to the higher police authorities in Stamboul, who went through a second long examination and came to the conclusion that the empire had been saved from disintegration by the early discovery of a great plot. They dispatched the whole matter to be inquired into at the sultan's palace at Yildiz, and a special commission took the matter in hand.

After much careful thought and examination of the evidence of the crime it was decided that there might not be nothing in it, but that it must not be committed again.—Harper's Weekly.

Told Him So.

"See here, landlord," said an angry tenant after he had signed the contract for a year, "this house is full of sewer gas."

"Yes; that's what I told you."

"Told me?"

"Yes. You asked me if there was gas in every room, and I said there was."

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Breathing Through the Mouth.

Breathing through the mouth instead of through the nose, as nature intended, is generally caused by the swelling of normal tissue in the nose or by growths in the nose, such as polyp, etc., and by the growth in the throat of adenoids and tonsils. The removal of these obstructions by surgical means is the only rational method to secure natural breathing. This is not dangerous, and injury to the speech or singing voice never occurs. On the contrary, through the presence of these obstructions in the nose and throat the hearing and the intellectual and bodily development often become seriously impaired.

Books and Beeches.

At a sale in New York a bibliophile said:

"Book is a word that comes from the German buche, or beech. But what connection has a book got with a beech? I'll show you."

The bibliophile led the way to a superb Caxton that had just been sold for $3,800.

"This volume, you see," he said, "is bound in boards—not pasteboards—real boards, beech boards. That is how all books were bound when printing began. Yes, when printing began in Germany, each incunabulum, or early book, was bound in buche—in beech boards half an inch thick, covered perhaps with leather, tipped and clasped with brass and studded with precious or semi-precious stones."
